HO The Telegraph Bill.

Our morning cotemporary, not daring to come before the public as the opponent of "Fair Play,"-not daring to say that any Telegraph Company doing husine s in the Colony should be allowed to "lavor one person and impose on another, "-tried yesterday to deceive the Those who are ignorant of the facts of son. How, in fact, could it be other-the case, if there be any such, need not wise? No man, not even an Attorney a be so any longer; for we will give facts, General, can make wrong right, nor decumentary evidence, that will at least right wrong, and Mr. Phillippo found satisfy any honorable man, though it may his arguments that "unfairness" draw the attention of the public to the Tollowing letter:

VICTORIA, B. C., 4th July, 1870. me that from this date the regular press telegram is to be increased to 2,000 words daily, at a rate not exceeding one cent per word it will be necessary, according to the rule in such cases, for your paper to take the same amount, at one cent per word, or as much of it as the wires can furnish.

Yours, truly, F. H. LAMB, Dis't Supt. W. U. Tel. Co. Mr. DeCosmos, Proprietor Daily Standard.

The original of the above letter, we have now in our possession. The naturel and only reasonable inference that any one could draw from this letter, is, that the Colonist and STANDARD were being treated alike by the Telegraph Comfor telegrams. Besides that, on the selfsame day that the above letter was writ ten, Mr. DeCosmos told Mr. Lamb that he understood that the Company were supplying the Colonist at a lower rate than the STANDARD, when the latter indignantly debied that the Telegraph Company were doing any such thing. Recollect these facts, whilst we make an extract from a letter dated San Francisco, August 2, 1870, and written by Mr. James Gamble, Gen'l. Superintendent, to Mr. DeCosmos :

"As you get your despatches for one cent a ward, I cannot see that you have any good grounds of complaint, as it is a lower rate for the distance than is puid by any other newspaper to the King by divine right—has done to the King by divine rig sion contradicting Mr. Lamb's letter, xisr was charged, had nothing to do the gates of Paris with his pictistical with what the STANDARD had to pay mask, invoking, with his eyes to Heaven, But, in order that the public may have the God of Battle against his enemies, no doubt about the indefensible conduct of Mr. Lamb and Mr. Gamble, se draw attention to the following extract from a letter addressed by Mr. Mumford, to Mr. DeDosmos, dated San Francisco. Nov. 25th, 1870, which taus follows:

tract with us, by which that paper takes 15,600 words per month, for three years, and country. As fore the Republicans of has bound itself to pay therefor, thirty-six Berlin, they become a legion. There hundred dollars—no deductions being made for interruptions on the lime." for interruptions on the lines."

The sum here charged to the Colonist, eccording to Mr. Mumford's letter, is only two-thirds of one cent per word- a crime, but a deed which will react on and one-third of a cent less than Mr Lamb asserted to be "the rule in such cases." The public can now see by documentary evidence that the Telegraph Company were charging one price to the STANDARD, and another price hotel porter in that city who has become and a lower one to the Colonist. Mr. white. It says: and a lower one to the Colonist. Mr. Mumlord's letter don't tell all, either ; for over and above the 15,600 words per has been going on for several years It mouth, the Colonist only paid one-ha fof a commenced by the almost unnoticeable cent per word, whilst the STANDARD was peeling off of the skin of his face, several forced to pay one cent per word for every word of telegram supplied. The public may thus see the unfairness of the Tele save by the features, that he was ever anygraph Bill was prepared with the one main and chief object—to compel all Telegraph Companies doing business here to the man has been, and is now, as healthy treat all persons alike, without "favor or as any of his fellowmortals. preference." In the next place, it had for its object to give all Telegraph Companies power to sue and be sued. The Bill was framed by two of the best barristers in the city, so as to secure those two ends. Some of its provisions Mr. DeCosmos objected to, as the editor of the Colonist well knows, for he was so informed by one of the framers of the Bill. Mr. Alston introduced the Bill into the Council, because he honestly believed the Bill to be a just one in principle, and one that ought, with a few minor exceptions, to become law, -and one, we predict, that will yet become law in this Colony. Mr. DeCosmos has been charged by the Colonist with holding "a singularly false and indelicate position" respecting the Telegraph Bill; and a.so that he "disowned" it. Now, neither of these positions are true He stated openly and boldly in the Honse that he had no private interest in the Bill, for he was bound by a sealed contract with the Company, till December, 1873; and that be wished no provision in the Bill that would impair that or any other contract He said, however, that he wished to see a law passed that would compel all Telegraph Companies to treat every person alike, without "favor or preference," the same as railway companies are compelled by law to do in Great Britain. In the next place, he wished a clear and definite provision to be made, in order that Tele- Fort Street, - - Victoria, V. He said, further: That it mattered not to him whether it was the Bill and above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that they are prepared to sell for Cash, the above mines that the Lowest Import to give the cash of or any other, so long as these two principles became law. opposing the consideration of a bill, the city of which was to place of our state. object of which was to place on our stat-ute book a provision that Telegraph Companies should treat his constituents and all others without favor or preference! It certainly requires some one to eulogiz-such an enlightened legislator; for if any public man ought to be ashamed of his vote in the Council, Dr. Helmcken is that man, so far as it respects the Tele-graph Bill. So far as the Attorney General is concerned, he was a pitiable failure in opposing the Bill. He dealt publid by mis-representing, as usual, the in words and sentences, as a lawyer treats aim and object of the Telegraph Bill a case; but the pith and substance of that no one was convinced by not induce the Colonist to cease its misrepresentations. First, then, we will draw the attention of the public to the was "fair play" of the Telegraph Company cotemporary about the conduct of Dr. Helmcken or the Attorney General, or some others, the better ; for their con-DEAR SIR :- The Colonist having notified duct is utterly indefensible on any moral ground whatever. No twelve men can be found in Victoria who would agree with them on this question; and that makes the position taken by Mr. Alston so much the more deserving of the high-

Dr. Jacoby, the chief of the German Liberals, has written a letter to a friend in Brussels, in which he says : We are fully edified at present on the policy of Bismarck. Instead of the assendant movement in Prussie and the whole of Germany which promised so fair, the Berliners are cast down with a stupor of fear and disappointment. In xchange for their hopes he gives them the spectacle of heartrending butcheries, triumphal parades, chants of victory and Te Deums. He imagines to turn the parrow-minded by dragging them into all sorts of ballucinations, and to stun F. GRELLEY them by overwhelming them with glory, accorning himself with a portentious ostentation, with the laurels of Sedan. where the mass of his troops and the incapicity of the French Generals led to success which no ore ever dared to expect. Thus the 'Lieutenann General of the Heavenly Sovereign"—this is the title which our Liberals and Radicais give to the King by divine right—has done solemn actions of grace for the favor that the Most High has deigned to secord to by a formidable artillery. The destroyer of mankind, William, has arrived before and will be still more in future, plunged into greater misery than the country of the enemy itself. It is commonly agreed among all classes of European society that the subjugation of France is tanta mount to a declaration of war against the sovereighty of the people of every worthy of the name, who think as I do, and who know very well that the dismemberment of France will not only be us, annihilating all liberty, not only in Germany but in every country in Europe

Approaching meeting of the Joint High Commission, the feeling among prominent parties is universally in favor of the idea that no settlement of difference with Great Britain movement will extend to Marsailles, Lyons and Bordeaux.

The Thiers' Government comtemplate a rements agreed to the appointment of a Joint High Commission, it was arranged between Mr. Fish and Sir Edward Tuornton, as a pre-liminary basis of negotiation, that the British to twenty-two millions of dollars and eede British Columbia to the United States in consider tion of the Alabama chains. As an offset to the money market however, the counter claims of British subjects would come in It is argued by distinguish d statesmen here, suffice to secure a satisfactory settlement with the United States. The payment of from $15,000,000 to $22,000,000 by Great Britain is regarded as but of small account, especially as the British claims might counterbalance the actual Alabama matter bill.

Gen. Cremieux has been summoned to Versilles, where he will be tried for disobedience do a day's work.

PARIS, March 22.—There has been no further bloodshed since six o'clock. The emed insurgents have been reinforced. The city is gloomy, and the excitement intense, Nationals under orders of the Contral Republican Committee, occupied Fort Vincennes. It is supposed that the garrison fraterniz-ed with the Committee as soon as they appeared.

Troops in the service of arondisements are organizing in the interest of order. Deputy Dinnencent was concerned with the hostility of the insurgents, and has been expelled from office by the Mayor.
